EL DON AND DEL ANO RECEIVE FIRSTS FROM MINNESOTA AND COLUMBIA JUDGES

A First Class rating has been received by El Don and Del Ano from the University of Minnesota and Columbia University respectively for the second semester issues of the paper and the 1955 yearbook.

The certificate awarded to El Don is second highest to Minnesota's All-American rating which was conferred on the paper for the first semester. Columbia's judges have not yet returned their verdict on the paper.

Elam Edits Paper

Editor of El Don through both the first and second semester last year was Mrs. Lorraine Elam. She was assisted by Walt Taylor as sports editor, Carl Sawyer as feature editor, and Don Mitchell, photographer.

Other second semester staffers included Dick Church, Gary Butler, Derek Lovett, Orlan Grunklee, Jim Hunkins, Louis Barreto, Suzie Hunter, and Ed Schaupp.

Columbia's First Place award to El Don is second to the Medalist certificate which is presented to the upper 10 per cent of the First Place books. This award was preceded by a Second Class rating from the Minnesota judge.

Taylor Edits Book

Taylor edited the 1955 yearbook. He was assisted by photographers Hunkins, Schaupp, Jackagan, Gale Hartman, and John Servis, and artists Hal George, Ascal Rivas, Jerry Coffman, and Jack Cox.

Also on the staff were Bill Oakley, Tom Jacoby, Noel Clinton, Katie Mobley, Darlene Longwell, Donald Moulton, Ben Tessada, Corretta Patterson, John Carr, Louis Calderera, Patty Sackman, Donna Denio, Ron Contreras, and Lea Walker.

Mrs. Carol (Longenecker) Ruiz is the yearbook adviser, and Carl Enstrom, journalism department chairman, is the adviser for El Don.

Friday, December 9, will be the last day yearbook pictures will be taken of sophomore men and women.

It was reported there were still many sophomore men and women who have not yet had their pictures taken.

To accommodate the remaining students, a new photography schedule will go into effect December 5. Pictures will be taken from eleven to one o'clock every day in the north wing of the Student Union. It is hoped that there will be a large turnout during the scheduled week in view of the fact that a majority of sophomore pictures are required to result in an attractive yearbook.

AWS Planning Welfare Step

Associated Women Student president Marlene Meacham and service chairman Barbara Kramp are presently making plans for the AWS traditional Christmas Welfare project which was established in 1947.

Money and canned food will be collected from campus organizations, students, and faculty for the project.

The Welfare Department of Orange County will furnish a list of five needy families to whom food will be sent.

AWS members from Santa Ana College and Fullerton Junior College will work together on a Christmas Party in Ward 28 of Orange County Hospital, Dec. 18.

BIG NEWS — El Don staffers, from front, Ellie Hannaford, Carl Sawyer, Don Mitchell, and Jim Davis look over the tapes in the United Press offices in Los Angeles with John "Sky" Dunlap, Community Relations Director, on a Press Club field trip which also included a detailed tour through the Los Angeles Examiner. The staff received word recently from the University of Minnesota that their paper had been given a First Class rating for last semester's issues in the bi-annual contest among junior college papers throughout the nation. Harold Alexander was elected to represent the College Players in the Inter-Club Council. Alexander is a veteran of USAF and is a drama major.

The club also voted to participate in the Christmas Welfare Project sponsored by the AMS.

B. E. DAYS SET FOR FEB. 28-29

Business Education Days at SAC will be February 28 and 29, it was reported by the College Business Advisory Committee.

Orange County businessmen, professional people, purchasing agents, and business students here and in high school are being invited to the two day show which will be held in the new gym and feature a display of office equipment, business machines, record forms, and business furniture.

Co-sponsor with the college for this event will be the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. This is the third year for the show; it is the largest of its kind in the Southland outside of the Los Angeles area.

Progress Continues On Science Building

Laboratory equipment in the Science Building has been installed, the elevator is installed and operating, and the permanent electric power hookup has been completed, Carl Moore, construction superintendent, stated today.

Hardware and screens are on the windows, most of the upstairs doors are hung, and the east and west main entrance doors are on.

Plumbing and excavating contractors are working on College Hall, hoping for an early settlement of the sand and gravel truck driver's strike. Over half of the rough plumbing is in, and ninety per cent of the excavating for grade beams is done.

Ballot Campaign Starts Monday

Petitions for all Associated Students offices may be taken out beginning Dec. 5, it was announced this week by the Student Executive Board.

The petitions may be obtained in G-71, the Deans' Office, and must be turned in Dec. 9, with the signatures of five per cent of the Associated Students on campus.

Primary elections are set for Jan. 4 and finals for Jan. 6, according to Roger Garrett, election head.

Offices which must be filled during the elections are ASB president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer; AWS president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer; AMS president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer; Freshman class president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, two AWS representatives, and one AMS representative; and Sophomore class president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, one AWS representative, and one AMS representative.

AWS officers must be sophomores or second semester freshmen at the time of their selection, and ASB president and vice-president must have completed thirty units of college work by the time they assume office.

ASB secretary and treasurer candidates must be Business Education students or obtain the written recommendation of the head of the Business Education Department to go with their nominating petition.

HOLIDAY DANCE SCHEDULED FOR NEXT SATURDAY

The holiday season will begin in style at Santa Ana College with the staging of the annual Christmas formal.

Saturday, December 10 is the date of the dance, this year named the Candy Cane Ball, scheduled for the cafeteria from 9-12 p.m.

Las Hidas members are in charge of the door, checking, and publicity, while Las Meninas members will make and install decorations, and Las Gitanas will provide the refreshments.

There will be dancing to the music of Monte LaBonte and his band, plus additional entertainment by the group.

Tickets may be obtained from any ASB executive board member beginning December 5, for $1.00 and $1.50 per couple.

BARR ATTENDS NATIONAL MEET

Santa Ana schools were represented at the White House Conference on Education by board member Wilbur Barr.

The meeting, which was in session since November 21 and completed yesterday was called by the 84th Congress on the suggestion of President Eisenhower.

There were some 1400 delegates at the confab, representing all the 48 states and U.S. territories. California sent 98 delegates.

YELL-LEADERS TO BE ELECTED BY STUDENTS

A motion stating that "not more than three assistant yell leaders be elected from the student body at the beginning of the first semester" was voted upon and passed as an amendment to the Associated Students constitution at a recent executive board meeting.

This amendment places the responsibility of selecting the assistant yell-leaders in the Associated Students' hands, relieving the head-cheerleader of the chore of choosing his own aides.

The motion was brought before the board at their Nov. 22 meeting by Sam Peden, freshman class president, and was voted down at that time. Immediately afterward, a petition was taken out and signed by approximately 150 dissatisfied students, and the motion was brought before the board again this week.

Although two of the members who voted against the motion at the previous meeting were absent Tuesday, the renewed motion passed unanimously.

LAFFERTY AND SHAKESPEARE AGREE ON PRODUCING PLAYS

To quote Mr. Shakespeare, "The play's the thing"; and to quote Mrs. Betty Lee Lafferty, "And how!"

"I'm sure the cast will do an excellent job on the coming play. I have full confidence in them," Mrs. Lafferty said.

"Playboy of the Western World" opens December 5 and will run through December 9. Opening night has been sold out but Tuesday through Friday nights will be open to the public.

"The cast has been applying polish to the lines and action and by Monday, everything is expected to be slick as a well shined shoe," said Bill Glassman, a major character in the play.

The cast consists of Dave Reilly as Christy Mahon, a man who claims to have killed his father; Nancy Neumann as Pegeen, a young lady in love with Christy; Bill Glassman as Michael James, fun loving and doting father of Pegeen; Michael Halloran as Shawn, a coward afraid of his own shadow; Jerry MacLaughlin as Widow Quin, a husband-hunting woman who has killed her former spouse; and Harold Alexander as Mahon, Christy's father, whose appearance in the play tends to complicate matters.

Rounding out the cast is Sam Peden as Jimmy Farrell, fat and jovial friend of Philly Cullen who is played by Hal George. The four village girls are played by Coralie Fox, Karole Krupp, Judith Gibson and Patricia Mendenhall.

ALI BABA and seven Los Caballeros show off spoils of a raid on Fullerton's trophy case before the Turkey Day game. Just after this pep assembly the lads from left, John Hombs, Gary Orr, John Schick, Bill Dozier, Bob Monroe, and president of Cabs, Phil Blower, had to take the gold cups back to Fullerton to avoid police action. ## Will You Have An Excuse?

There will be Associated Students who will not vote at the coming general campus election for next semester officers. They will all have an excuse for not voting. And the biggest reason will be "I don't give a —."

Persons who do not have the gumption to mark a ballot for students in their own school, many in their own classrooms, some their speaking acquaintances, are the same persons who will pull down our national voting percentage when it comes time to vote for the President and Congressmen of the United States.

The voting privilege which has been handed down to Americans of this age has become a veiled gift. Some of us are curious enough to lift the veil and see what a splendid present it hides, other are too lazy to ever find out.

Some people go by the law that you "make your own luck", but isn't it a sort of "luck" that you are an American. Think how many people aren't. Yet, look at the number of people who abuse their "luck" when it comes time to vote.

Persons who fail to take the little time it requires to cast a vote do not actually deserve to be called "Americans", for they are not living up to the fullest standards of the word's meaning.

This may all sound melodramatic, but stop and think about it for awhile and see if you don't agree. If, after thinking about it, you decide to make it a point to vote at the forthcoming Associated Students election, it has served its purpose.

STUDENTS RELATE 'I WAS THERE' TALES OF EVENTS OF HISTORICAL IMPORTANCE

By Sharon Boucher

Samples Recalls Cincinnati Flood

Given the right incentive, SAC students could put on their own I WAS THERE program. Among those who have been on the spot when headlines were made is Virhel Samples, business administration major.

The Ohio River flood of 1937 wiped out the Samples' large farm on the outskirts of Cincinnati, and left thousands in the vicinity homeless.

Samples was a young child at the time, but he remembers his father and other men diving under water to hook cranes onto the car, trucks and farm machinery.

Moving into Cincinnati with his family, Samples attended city schools. He was graduated from Woodward high in 1952. He enlisted in the army the same year, and except for basic training, spent his two year enlistment at the U.S. Army Korean headquarters as a clerk typist.

Soon after Samples received his discharge from the army his family moved to California.

Keesee Relives December 7, 1941

Wendell Keesee, horticulture major, was a first class petty officer serving on the Destroyer USS Reid, based at Pearl Harbor, Sunday December 7, 1941.

Keesee had just finished the cold iron watch, from four a.m. to eight a.m., eaten breakfast, and crawled into his bunk when he heard the barking of machine guns.

At eight o'clock every morning for weeks, except Sundays, they had held practice drills. "This is just another drill," Keesee called to the men. But when they reached the deck a few seconds later, ships were turning over in the harbor and Hickam Field was on fire.

The USS Reid and four other destroyers were tied along side a tender, or mother ship, from which they took all their power and lights when not at sea. About seventy-five per cent of the destroyer's machinery was out of commission. Two pumps had to be put together before the ship could start moving.

"I ran to the engine room which was my general quarters station, and started putting machinery together and lighting off to steam out," Keesee says.

As they thought the enemy fleet was outside the harbor, all able ships put to sea. The U. S. S. Reid was underway within thirty-two minutes, and was the second ship to leave.

In February 1942 Keesee transferred to submarines and was in the waters of Tokyo Harbor and off Okinawa during heavy fighting, his ship acting as a pickup for planes that were shot down.

After twenty-one years in the navy, Keesee is retired, married and the father of a seven year old boy.

Bushong's Plane Dreams Realized

Planes have always fascinated Herman Bushong. World War I planes were his heroes when he was attending schools in Washington, D. C., and he was determined to be a fighter pilot.

Young Bushong built model airplanes, joined a model club, and won several ribbons in local area contests. In 1938 he entered the Chicago nationals.

After graduating from high school and finding it impossible to go on to college, he worked as a stock room clerk during the day and studied aeronautical drafting at night.

Upon completion of this course Bushong went to work as a draftsman for the government. During his spare time he learned to fly then he tried to enlist in a service offering pilot training, but was turned down by both the Air Force and Navy because he was underweight and lacked sufficient education demanded for the training program.

Bushong then applied for enlistment in the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Sunday after he was accepted Pearl Harbor was attacked. He cancelled his contract with the R.C.A.F. and later went into the U.S. Navy, receiving his wings and a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve. He served at Midway and aboard an aircraft carrier, but saw no action other than fighter patrol.

It wasn't until Bushong was recalled to active duty in January, 1951, and served a tour of duty in the Korean theater that his dream of becoming a fighter pilot was finally realized.

As a fighter pilot, and when on photo reconnaissance missions Bushong flew Corsair type fighter bombers and F9F Panther jets making a number of runs on the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

Before being recalled for duty Bushong was attending night classes at George Washington University. At SAC he is working towards a degree in mechanical engineering.

iCaramba!

By
El Don Mitchell

Front page El Don story announces coming elections and the date petitions may be taken out. It is the usual pre-election story. I hope that elections this year are different than last semester's to make them unusual.

Voters stayed away from SAC polls last semester for some reason—only 72 votes were cast. About 10 per cent of the students cared enough about the running of school government to take five seconds to cast a vote.

Grand total of one person ran for each office last time elections were held on campus. Continuance of this practice could disgrace the college and weaken the student government type of college administration.

Perhaps it was not lack of interest in student officers and elections that made the total vote cast such a low percentage. Little publicity was given the candidate or election. It is evident that no effective publicity was used. We see old El Dons in time of election that were nearly overcrowded with campaign ads.

Last year student president Charles Herring, and his government made plans for a two party system of politics on campus. Leaders and all students were for the idea—it caught on like fire.

As elections start again, the fire is out, not completely but it will soon die unless present executive board members re-ignite feeble political twigs.

CONGRESSMAN UTT PREDICTS IKE-STEVENSON RACE IN '56

By Walt Taylor
El Don Editor

Congressman James B. Utt, representative from this district, told El Don in a special interview that he believes the 1956 presidential race will again be between Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson.

A 1944 graduate of Santa Ana College, Utt is in his second term in the House of Representatives. Following his graduation from the University of Southern California law school in 1946, he went into law practice with Royal E. Hubbard of Santa Ana. He was elected to Congress in 1952.

DEMO HEAD INTERVIEWED BY STUDENTS

By Carl Sawyer
Staff Reporter

"I don't believe President Eisenhower will run in 1956", Democratic Party Chairman Paul Butler told Orange County Democrats Tuesday night at a Democratic rally in Santa Ana, "and if Eisenhower does choose to run again, the American voters will think twice before electing Ike and Nixon on the same ticket a second time," Butler added.

In his first visit to Orange County, long a predominantly Republican area, Butler asserted, "Orange County, formerly a black spot in Democratic ranks can become the white hope of Democrats in California in 1956."

Notre Dame Fan

An ardent fan of Notre Dame football and resident of South Bend, Ind., Butler paralleled the likeness of USC's upset victory over the Irish in Los Angeles last Saturday to the upset he predicts the Democratic Party will win over the GOP in the 1956 election. "Over confidence is the only thing that can stop us," Butler stated. "If every Democrat will work toward our goal, we will easily defeat any opposition in next year's presidential race."

Battle Brewing

"The major issue in next year's election will undoubtedly be over big business controlling the nation's government. We Democrats will have to raise more money than ever to counteract the Republican propaganda tactics in the 1956 campaign," Butler concluded.

Students from Santa Ana College, Fullerton Junior College, Chapman College and Orange Coast College interviewed the Democratic Party Chairman following his address to Orange County Democrats.

Attending from Santa Ana College were Ernest Crain, SAC Political Science instructor; Carl Sawyer, El Don representative; Don Mitchell, Santa Ana Independent reporter; and Jan Worthen, Jean Cottrell and Sanae Ishida.

SAC Poet Publishes Poem In Anthology

"They Shall Rise Again", a poem by Sarah Rosenberg, SAC student, has been accepted by the Annual Anthology of College Poetry, Dennis Hartman, secretary of the National Poetry Association, announced this week.

The Anthology is a compilation of poetry written by college students from all over the nation. Selections published in the publication were chosen from thousands of poems submitted, according to Hartman.

BILL OF RIGHTS TEAM AT WORK

The Bill of Rights committee, Dan Maher, Richard Boynton, and Barbara Kramp, are working on a project to make the Bill of Rights known to students and faculty during the annual Bill of Rights week, Dec. 8-16.

Ernest Crain, political science instructor and Veterans Counselor is advisor to the group.

Their plans include a display in the library, posters, announcements in El Diario, and a skit at one of the assemblies during December.

FRUITS OF VICTORY — The Turkey Day Trophy, awarded annually to the winner of the traditional Thanksgiving Day grid classic between the Dons and their Fullerton rivals, is paraded here during halftime ceremonies by A.S. President Russ Behrens and Fullerton's prey. This was the last chance SAC students will get to see the prize until next year. The Hornets downed the Dons 55-7.

Over 200 Families Await Enrollment In SAC's Child Development Center

So popular is the Child Development Center of SAC that it has an enrollment of thirty-five families, and a waiting list of over two-hundred.

The center is the laboratory for courses in Child Growth and Development offered by both the Day College and the Adult Evening Classes, and the only one of its particular kind in Orange County.

Trade Journal Work Explained

Glover Hendrickson, editor of Western Heating and Plumbing Trade Journal and former El Don Editor recently spoke to the Press Club about the trade journal phase of journalism. Hendrickson was graduated from SAC in 1932 and worked at several jobs before he broke into the trade journal field.

Hendrickson told the club about the excellent opportunities and several interesting sidelights in trade journalism. He explained the differences between newspaper reporting and trade journalism and brought with him several examples of trade journals.

Press Club is sponsoring a display of 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners in the recent Orange County Press Club contest for reporters' stories. Best news story, feature story, and sports story will be featured. It will be on display in the Student Union December 5 through 9.

Tattlers, Players See Pasadena Plays

The scene was the Pasadena Playhouse last Saturday evening. On stage, was being presented a performance of George Bernard Shaw's immortal "Pygmalion" and in the balcony, several members of the SAC College Players and Tattlers were witnessing the performance.

It was the first field trip taken by the two clubs. Oscar Wilde's "Ideal Husband" was given in the afternoon.

Plans for publicity for the forthcoming production of "Playboy of the Western World" were discussed at the meeting Tuesday.

Membership pins were presented to Newman Clubbers by President Jack Markel at a breakfast in St. Joseph's Hall Sunday morning. The breakfast was followed by an outing at Irvine Park.

Guest speaker at the breakfast was Mr. Miller, proprietor of the Certified Market in Santa Ana, who spoke to the club on the "Ethics of Successful Businessmen."

Presidents and several members from the Orange Coast and Fullerton Newman Clubs were guests also at the breakfast. A similar breakfast, but on a larger scale, is planned for next semester at the Certified Market with all the Newman Clubs in the area participating.

Sports History Recorded In Wax

Sports enthusiasts can hear the actual sounds of famous sporting events and the voices of history-making participants on THE GREATEST MOMENTS IN SPORTS, a new long playing record at the SAC library.

Boxing fans can listen to the voice of Jack Dempsey, and be at the ringside when Rocky Marciano knocked out Joe Louis, Knute Rockne gives a pep talk to his Notre Dame football team, and Pearl Harbor is announced in the middle of the New York Giant-Brooklyn Dodger football game of 1941.

Babe Ruth tells of his baseball ambitions and his retirement is recorded, Roger Bannister breaks the four-minute mile, and Dark Star wins the Kentucky Derby, all on wax.

An album of twelve records, THE COLUMBIA LITERARY SERIES, has also been received at the library. It records the voices of W. Somerset Maugham, Edna Ferber, and William Saroyan, among others, reading from their own writings.

An auto-shop attendant directed the SAC students throughout the building and explained the functionings of their diesel shops and methods employed to repair tractors.

December 8 the auto and diesel shops will travel to Los Angeles for another trip. Students will visit the Cummings Sale and Repair Company which is one of the largest of its kind on the West coast.

Palomar, Santa Monica Invade Don Casaba Lair

By Jim Davis

Rebounding from a narrow defeat by a powerful Don Alumni, SAC's basketball five will again put their court lore to the test tonight and Saturday evenings in successive games with Palomar and Santa Monica JCs. Both games will be played at Andrews Gym starting at 8.

Strength of the opposing squads is not yet known, with the hoop season just getting underway, but stiff opposition is expected to be in order for both games.

The starting five tonight will include Bob Hunden, 5'11" center from Kalama, Washington; Dick Rannus, 5'10" guard from Long Island, N. Y.; Jim Stanley, guard from Indianapolis; Lee Mathews 5'11" forward from Bellflower; and Chuck Lewis, 6' forward formerly of Chicago.

Squad List

Rounding out the squad will be Mike O'Brien, 6' forward from Mater Dei; Brent Turner, 6' forward formerly playing for Santa Ana; Al Lang, 5'10" forward from Chicago; Pete Allen, 6'3" center from Tustin; Don Radford, 5'11" forward from Santa Ana; Al Banks, 6'1" guard from Mater Dei; Ken Shaner, 6'1" forward from Sheldon, Iowa; Chuck Lyons, 6' center from Santa Ana; Roger Garrett, 5'8" guard from Santa Ana; John Hombs, 6' guard from Santa Ana; and Jim Markham, 5'8" guard from Tulare.

Murrel Debut

These games, two of the several pre-conference tilts scheduled for the Dons, should give a vague idea of Coach C. W. Murrel's results with the squad in his first year at SAC, although with the birth of the season only one game past, much of the team's development still remains in the future.

Appearing as a strong contender to retain his high scoring laurels, Jim Stanley racked up 23 points in the season opener with the Alumni. Chuck Lewis also looked good against the former Dons, scoring 12 points.

JRB Set

Compton Junior College was named over powerful Taft Jaysee to represent the west in the Junior Rose Bowl. The Tartars will meet Jones County Jaysee of Ellisville, Mississippi, in the 10th renewal of the classic Saturday, December 10. Jones is the only unbeaten, untied jaysee team outside of California.

Taft, was figured by many observers to have the JRB bid wrapped up, because it had won by more impressive scores over Ventura and Los Angeles City College. Also Taft has never appeared in the game before, whereas Compton has played in the classic on two previous occasions, both winning ones.

Compton has compiled a great record this season rolling up 381 points to its opponents' 50 in winning 10 straight games. Compton gained a total of 4137 yards (3221 on the ground and 916 in the air) to their rivals' 920. Both the Tartars and Jones are prominent running powers.

Max Moore Honored

After the season finish on Thanksgiving day the list of the "Don of the Week" was completed with the announcement that end Max Moore had been chosen "Don of the Week" for his performance against the Hornets.

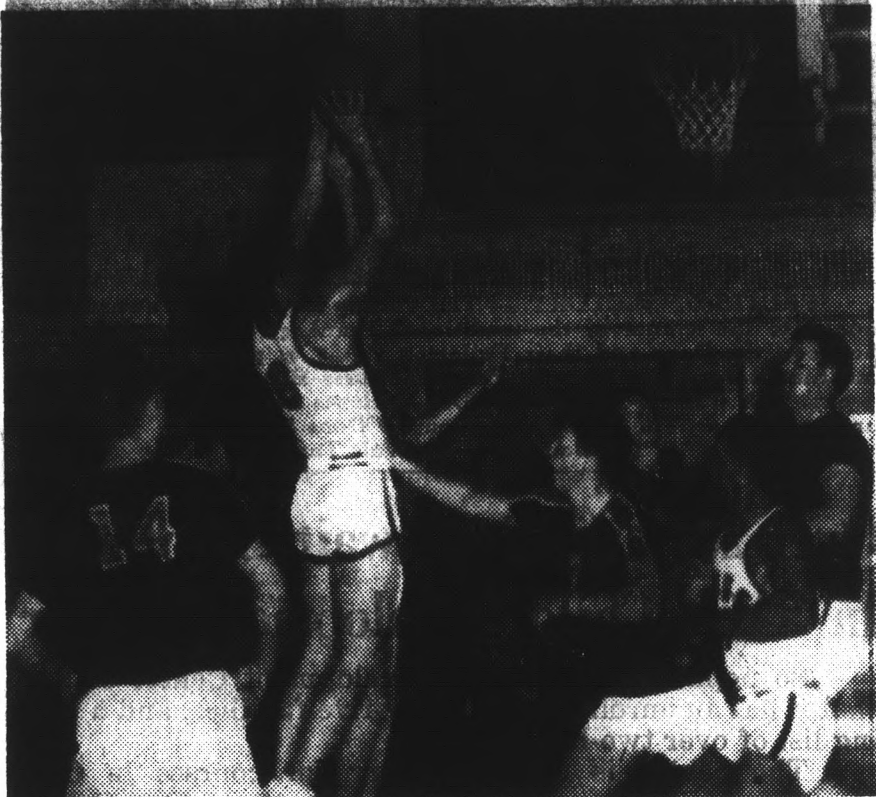

Max joins the previous selections of: Bud Dowling, Gil Rodriguez, Carlton Davis, Tom Baldwin, Don Jordan, Dave Whalen, Tom Allen, Tom Berg, and Bill Cornett.

Pro Draft

In past years the National Football League held a single league meeting, at which time the college graduating football players were selected by the different clubs. This year a special three round draft was held, so the American pro owners could get the jump on the Canadians in signing the cream of the college crop.

UP AND IN — Four Alumni defenders can't stop Don center Bob Hunden from scoring two points as action got hot and heavy in the final quarter of the Don-Alumni game.

ALUMNI DEADEYES BOP DONS IN OPENER 69-66

By Carl Sawyer
El Don Sports Editor

Led by mammoth Houston Faulkner, 6 foot 8 inch giant at center, a potent array of Don alumni spoiled Coach C. W. Murrel's plans for a win in his first outing as Don coach by slipping by the 1955-56 Don hoophmen 69 to 66 Monday night at Andrews Gym.

Pumping the basket for 28 points, Faulkner saved most of his points for the second half to push the Alumni ahead of the battling Dons who held a 40 to 28 lead at halftime only to see the lead diminish and disappear in the fourth quarter.

Jim Stanley of the Dons, ace forward and high scoring letterman on last season's five, topped the Don scorers with 9 field goals and 5 free throws for a total of 23 points. Chuck Lewis, another of Coach Murrel's lettermen forwards, hit for 12 points.

Game Slowed Down

The Dons fast break offense was held to a standstill most of the game by the taller and slower Alumni who preferred to slow the game down and rely on set shots by their talented guards. Dick Burt, a 1947 grad scored 14 points on seven field goals all from 30 to 40 feet out.

Faulkner, an AAU player with Grihalva Chevrolet of San Diego was virtually unstoppable with his famed hook shot. The tall center sank 8 baskets from the floor while connecting on 12 charity tosses.

Hunden Guards Giant

Assigned the monumental task of guarding the high scoring Faulkner was Bob Hunden, a 5 foot 11 inch freshman who turned in a notable performance before fouling out early in the fourth period. Hunden out fought and out jumped Faulkner on numerous occasions to come down with the ball off the backboards, seemingly an impossible task. While kept busy guarding Faulkner, Hunden found time to score 8 points for the losers.

Guards Match Points

The two Don guards Dick Rannus and Lee Mathews notched 6 points apiece. Rannus hit twice from 40 feet out with his tricky two handed set shot giving the fans a thrill and aiding the Don cause.

HORNETS DOWN DONS 55-7 IN GRID FINALE

Fullerton's 55-7 victory over the Don gridders last Thursday afternoon brought Santa Ana's '55 season to a close with a 2 won-4 lost conference record.

A large percentage of the youthful squad will be returning next year with strong tendencies toward homicide directed at the Mounties and a few other Eastern Conference rivals to avenge this and several other bad defeats of the season.

Don Runners End Cross Country Sked

Santa Ana's cross country squad completed an excellent season last Tuesday, but still in the shadow of Mt. San Antonio College.

The Dons brought home third place honors from the Southern California meet at Glendale behind the Mounties and Long Beach City College, beaten by the Dons earlier this year.

The Don harriers, scoring 99 to Mt. SAC's 47 and LBCC's 71, have been second only to the Mounties all year, sharing billing with Mt. SAC as Southern Cal's giants in the hill and dale sport.

Jim Geyer of the Dons finished the three mile course in 16:25 minutes for 10th place among the 80 participants, followed by Tom Noll in 11th position with the time of 16:26. Other SAC finishers were Jack Currier, 16th; John Kershaw 25; and David Barry, 37th. Winning time was 15:36.

One week previous to this contest, Mt. SAC again edged out the Dons for the Eastern Conference title, SAC running up 32 points to the Mounties' 26. Geyer again placed second with 15:01 minutes over the 2.8 mile run. John Kershaw was the second Don home, running 4th, followed by Tom Noll, 6th; Jack Currier, 7; and Dave Barry, 13.

The only eight graduating Don lettermen gave outstanding performances that their predecessors might take notice of.

The Hornets, with visions of a bowl bid dancing in their heads, rolled up as impressive a score as possible on the die-hard Dons. Two tallies in the opening quarter set the pace for the visitors. Hornet Gary Campbell was the first to reach paydirt, romping for six yards. He also figured in the following score, passing 38 yards to Ken Gregory.

The second quarter was all Fullerton again, Campbell scoring from 3 and 2 yards out. Roberts added two more with a 3 yard plunge and a TD after snagging a 10 yard pass from Campbell.

Bob Bagwell tacked on six more on a 10 yard sprint, and completed Fullerton's scoreboard antics in the last quarter with a one yard smash.

The Dons, hampered considerably by the loss of their first string tailback Gil Rodriguez early in the game, could not sustain a drive until the third quarter. Here they took charge briefly, moving 50 yards in six plays. Highlighting the drive were two passes of 18 and 20 yards, both from Les Grayson to Carlton Davis, the latter responsible for the Don's only tally.

Winners of only two contests this season, the Don coaches Don Davis and John Ward and a large group of returning lettermen are already looking forward to a more impressive record next year.

Volleyball Takes Over In SAC Women Sports

With the SAC womens basketball season ended, volleyball has entered the atmosphere attracting co-eds to organize several teams which are under the direction of Miss Isabelle Rellstab.

Three groups have been formed, so far, but Rellstab is still looking for more students to participate in volleyball in order to create more teams. If this occurs, an intramural program will be established.

Team practice has been continuing for the past three weeks on the SAC playgrounds, and are held every Monday and Wednesday; if weather conditions permit.

On January 13, Rellstab, and the volleyball players will enter the Long Beach City College elimination tournament. Since the maximum of two squads are allowed, Rellstab will use her additional players as substitutes throughout the contests.
